

Script for Parents

I love you very much and will continue to love you.

I will help protect you, no matter what.

I will communicate and work together with the other care takers in your life.

I will not say bad things about the other care takers in your life.

You will not have to choose between us, I want you to choose all of us.

I will have consistent rules and support other's rules as best as I can.

I want you to do well in school and life.

I am making plans for the future and I will keep you informed of my plans.

I expect you to mind, respect, and love the other care takers in your life.

The reason for a divorce is not your fault.

The reason for your parent's separation is not your fault.

It is okay to be angry, confused, and scared. I want you to talk to me about your feelings.

I will not ask you to deliver messages to the other care takers in your life.

I will provide structure and predictability in your life.

When you struggle with the other care takers in your life I will listen and I will help you talk with them about your concerns, feelings and desires.

I will work to take care of myself so I can take care of you.
